

KIDS IN PRINT 2017

Richland Library's literary magazine, Kids in Print, showcases the creative talents of young people, ages 6-18, across the Midlands. We accept poetry, stories, short plays, essays, drawings, photographs and more.

Kids in Print is not a competition, but with so many submissions, we are not able to publish everything. We try to include a variety of creative work that is original, well-crafted and contributes to the overall magazine. Congratulations on being brave and expressing yourself - whether you're published or not, you've succeeded!

The Rules

1. Authors: Type or write your essay, poem or short story in black ink on 8.5 x 11 inch white paper. Written submissions are limited to one page, single-spaced. Entries will not be returned.
2. Artists: Draw your work vertically in black ink on 8.5 x 11 inch white paper. No notebook paper, please. Black and white photographs are accepted. No copies or tracings. Artwork will not be returned.
3. Richland Library reserves the right to make editorial changes.
4. Each contributor may submit up to 10 entries. Each entry should be on a separate page with its own submission form.
5. Turn in your entry at any library location by January 12, 2017. See details below on submission options. Be sure to complete your entry information. Incomplete entries will not be considered.
6. Questions? Call (803) 929-3434 or e-mail Heather McCue at hmccue@richlandlibrary.com.

Helpful Hints

- Teachers: Want to use Kids in Print as a class project? That's great, but please make sure the entries are on more than one topic. This helps us showcase a wide variety of creative work.
- Artists: Please draw your work vertically on an 8.5 x 11 inch piece of white paper. No notebook paper, please.
